Content

Preface 5

Introduction 13

SECTION 1: ORIGEN AND THE 20TH CENTURY

I. Balthasar among Many: Origen's Reception 17
1. The many "essences" of Origen 17
2. Origen in Balthasar's Corpus 23
3. Existing Literature and my Contribution 27

II. Balthasar's Silences 34
1. Spirit and Fire: Why an Anthology? 34
2. The Structure: Inclusions and Omissions 35
3. The Three Strata of Origen 41

III. Balthasar's Enthusiasm for Origen 47

IV. Why Origen? The Issues behind Enthusiasm: against Neo-Scholasticism . . 51
1. School Theology 51
2. The Church in the World 55
3. Sources Chrétiennes: the Return to the Fathers 58
4. The Origin of Ressourcement: Henri de Lubac's Surnaturel 61
5. The Drama of Atheist Humanism 64
6. Nouvelle Théologie and Humani Generis 67
7. Balthasar's Perplexity with Surnaturel: the Discovery of a Different Concern 71
8. Balthasar and the Fathers 75

V. Balthasar's Critiques of Origen 80
1. Not an Easy Retrieval 80
2. Wendung nach Osten: the Features of Eastern Spirituality 82
a) Spiritualism and its Problems 82
b) Liturgical Symbolism 90

3. Origen between Spiritualism and Sacramentality 92
4. Balthasar and Platonism 93

VI. Why this Origen? The Issues behind the Critiques: against Idealistic Neoplatonism 99
1. The French Debate on Christian Philosophy 100
2. French Neoplatonism and Idealism 105
3. The Roots of the Critique: Titanism and Daimonic Struggle 108
4. The Prometheus Principle: Apokalypse der deutschen Seele 113
5. Secondary Evidence: Balthasar's Concern with Blondel 116

SECTION 2: BALTHASAR'S APPRECIATION OF ORIGEN

1. The Transparency of the World 125
2. The Third Way 130

I. The Dignity of Eros: Origen's Contribution to the Nature-Grace Controversy 136
1. Desire in Spirit and Fire 136
2. Desire in Origen's Cosmology: the Cosmic Adventure of the Soul 139
a) "A Desire to be United with Him": the Dynamic Character of Desire 140
b) "The Soul's Affinity to God": the Analogical Character of Desire . . . 144
c) "Some Traces of Divine Will": the Divine Arrow of Love as "Objective Promise" 155
3. Towards Sacramental Ontology: the "Objective Promise" in Balthasar's Theology 160
4. A Unique Symbol: the Mystical Marriage 165
5. The Bridal Relation of Nature and Grace 170

II. The Spiritual Senses: Origen's Contribution to the Faith-Reason Controversy 177
1. The Spiritual Senses in Balthasar's Works 177
2. Why the Spiritual Senses? 181
3. The Spiritual Body 184
4. Balthasar's Interpretation of Origen's Spiritual Senses 187
5. Analogy and Presence 193
6. Beyond the Opposition: from Aesthetics to Dramatic 196
7. Origen and Balthasar: Continuity and Discontinuity 203
8. The Fruit of the Doctrine of the Spiritual Senses 205

III. Exitus-Reditus: Origen's Contribution to the Freedom-Determinism Controversy 209
1. Origen's Cosmology of Freedom 209
2. A First Explanation: Freedom and Grace in Spirit and Fire 213
3. A Different Approach to the Problem: Origen in Theo-Drama 2 214
4. Movement and Freedom 217
5. "Der wahre Kern" 222
6. The Roots of Freedom 230
a) The Doctrine of Creation 230
b) The Doctrine of the ἡγεμονικόν 232
c) The Doctrine of Christ's Soul 233
7. An Exemplar Case: the Fifth Book of the Commentary on Romans 235
8. Indifference or Indifferentia? 241
9. The Law of Love 245

IV. Conclusive Remarks: At the Core of the Tension within Balthasar's Appreciation of Origen 252
1. Titanism and Pantheism 252
2. Analogia Entis, Analogia Libertatis 262
3. A Way out of the Tension: Origen's "großartiger heilsgeschichtlicher Trinitarismus" 270
4. Kenosis and Freedom: Some Considerations 278

V. Balthasar's Inspiration: Apocatastasis 284
1. Apocatastasis in Origen 285
2. Apocatastasis in Spirit and Fire 287
3. Voices on Universal Salvation 289
a) Catholicisme 290
b) History and Spirit 291
c) "Tu m'as trompé, Seigneur". Le commentaire d'Origène sur Jérémie 20,7 292
4. Balthasar's Development of Universal Salvation 298
a) Dare we Hope 300
b) Kleiner Diskurs über die Hölle 301
c) Apokatastasis 303
5. Holy Saturday 306
6. Origen and Balthasar: Similarity and Dissimilarities 310
7. Barth and Origen 311

Conclusion 317
1. Harvesting the Seed 317
2. The Fathers Today? 322

List of Abbreviations 325
Bibliography 327

Indexes
Origen 357
Names 360
Subjects 362