CONTENTS

Preface . . . . . VII

General Introduction . . . . . 1

Part One:

The Church History of Eusebius of Caesarea

Chapter One:

The Date, Aims and Presuppositions of the History (Book 1) . 13

§ 1 Date of Composition . . . . . 13

§ 2 The Historical Method of Eusebius . . . . . 17

§ 3 The Original Purpose of Eusebius: The Apostolic Successions . 20

§ 4 The Suppositions and Presuppositions of the History . . . . 34

Chapter Two:

The Apostolic Age (Books 2—3) . . . . . 41

§ 1 Book 2: The Foundation of the Church . . . . . 41

a) St. James the Just and the function of Jerusalem within Salvation History . . . . . 42

b) The Divine Dispensation regarding St. Peter . . . . . 47

c) Rome as the place of confrontation between Simon Peter and Simon Magnus . . . . . 50

d) Peter's association with Alexandria through St. Mark and Philo 57

e) St. Paul . . . . . 62

f) The end of Jerusalem's function in Salvation History . . 62

g) The final source of Rome's authority within the Church: The Martyrdom of St. Peter and St. Paul . . . . . 64

§ 2 Book 3: The Completion of the Church's Foundation and the Transition to the Post-Apostolic Age . . . . . 67

a) The Beginning of the Succession Lists: The Transmission of the Apostolic Authority . . . . . 68

b) St. Clement of Rome and the Transmission of the Apostolic Teaching . . . . . 72

c) The tombs of St. Peter and St. Paul at Rome — their theological relevance . . . . . 76

§ 3 Summary . . . . . 78

Chapter Three:

The Age of the Apostolic Church (Books 4—7) . . . . . 82

§ 1 Book 4: The Defence of the Divine Teaching against the successors of Simon Magnus . . . . . 84

§ 2 Book 5: The Paschal Controversy and the St. Peter/Simon Magnus Prototype . . . . . 90
§ 3 Book 6: Rome and Alexandria – the St. Peter/St. Mark Prototype 109
§ 4 Book 7: The Final Period of the Apostolic Successions . . . 119
a) The Baptismal Controversy . . . . . 121
b) Sabellianism . . . . . 125
c) Paul of Samosata . . . . . 128
§ 5 Summary . . . . . 135

Chapter Four:
Dawn of a new "Dispensation" (Books 8—10)

§ 1 The First Revision: After A. D. 311 . . . . . 140
§ 2 The Second Revision: After A. D. 312 . . . . . 154
§ 3 The Third Revision: After A. D. 317 . . . . . 156
§ 4 The Fourth Revision: Between A. D. 325 and 326 . . . . . 164
§ 5 Summary . . . . . 190

Note I:
Interpolations in Book 1 of the Original History

Chapter Five:
Final Analysis . . . . . 200

Note II:
Mt 16,18 in Eusebius . . . . . 221

Part Two:
The Historico-Apologetic Writings of St. Athanasius of Alexandria

Chapter Six:
Methodological Preliminaries . . . . . 233

§ 1 Basic Approach . . . . . 233
§ 2 Status quaestionis . . . . . 238
§ 3 The Driving Force of Athanasius' Life: the Final Thrust of his Writings . . . . . 243
a) Athanasius the Man . . . . . 246
b) Athanasius the Saint . . . . . 256
c) Athanasius the Pastor . . . . . 263
§ 4 Method of Interpreting the Individual Writings of Athanasius . 265
§ 5 The Question of Athanasius' Dependence on Eusebius . . . . 268

Chapter Seven:
St. Peter and his Confession of Faith (Mt 16,16—18) . . . 270
§ 1 The Confession of Peter and the Regula Fidei . . . . . 271
§ 2 Confession of Peter as the "Rock" on which the Church is built . 278
§ 3 The Confession of Peter and His Martyrdom at Rome . . . 285
§ 4 Summary . . . . . 289

Chapter Eight:
The Apologia: Julius of Rome and the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Catholic and Apostolic Church . . . . . 291
§ 1 Date of Composition . . . . . 292
§ 2 Sitz im Leben . . . . . 305
§ 3 The Addressees of the Apologia . . . . . 318
§ 4 The Literary Genre and Aims of the Apologia . . . . . 322
§ 5 The Structure of the Apologia . . . . . 325
§ 6 Analysis of the Text . . . . . 327
a) Part I: The Primary Aim . . . . . 327
b) Part II: The Secondary Aim . . . . . 340

Chapter Nine:
The Defence of the Apostolic Church in the face of the "Imperial Church" of the Two Eusebii . . . . . 346
§ 1 The Synod of Tyre A. D. 335 . . . . . 346
§ 2 The 10th Festal Letter for Easter A. D. 338 . . . . . 361
§ 3 The Encyclical Letter of the Synod of Alexandria A. D. 338 . 366
§ 4 The Epistola Encyclica of Athanasius, A. D. 339 . . . . 372
§ 5 The Synod of Rome, A. D. 340—341 . . . . . 374
§ 6 The Letter of the Eusebian-controlled Synod of Antioch, January A. D. 341 . . . . . 381
§ 7 The Fourth Letter of Julius, Bishop of Rome, A. D. 341 . . . 398
§ 8 The Sequel to the Synod of Rome: The Great Synod of Sardica A. D. 343 . . . . . 425
§ 9 The Letter of the Eusebian-controlled Orientals at Sardica . . 448
§ 10 The Documents which resulted from the Synod of Sardica: the Synod's Rejection of the "Eusebian Heresy" . . . . . 453
§ 11 The Civil Restoration of Athanasius to his See . . . . . 462
§ 12 The Apologia in the Light of the Historical Background . . 468

Chapter Ten:
Historia Arianorum ad monachos: Liberius and the Confession of Faith . . . . . 476
§ 1 Date of Composition . . . . . 477
§ 2 Sitz im Leben . . . . . 479

§ 3 Addressees of the Historia . . . . . 496
§ 4 Liberary Genre and Aims . . . . . 498
§ 5 The Internal Structure of the Historia . . . . . 503
§ 6 Analysis . . . . . 504
a) Part I, Unit I: The Universal Unanimity (Hist. Arian. 1—27) 505
b) Part I, Unit II: The Alternative to Universal Unanimity (Hist. Arian. 28—41) . . . . . 511
§ 7 Conclusion . . . . . 549

Note III:
The Episcopal Election and Ordination of Saint Athanasius . 553

General Conclusion . . . . . 561

Sources and Literature . . . . . 569
§ 1 Abbreviations . . . . . 569
§ 2 Primary Sources . . . . . 570
§ 3 Other Sources . . . . . 573
§ 4 Secondary Literature . . . . . 575
i. Part One . . . . . 575
ii. Part Two . . . . . 581

Appendix . . . . . 587

Indices . . . . . 593
Index of Biblical References . . . . . 593
Index of Ancient Authors (Sources) . . . . . 594
Index of Names and Topics . . . . . 602
Index of Greek Terms . . . . . 619
Index of Modern Authors . . . . . 620